Their Disposition Between Port Arthur and Yalu

THE JAPANESE FAILURE

Official Report At Tokio of That Exciting Event—The Extent of Russian Indignation Against the United States—Japan-Korea Arrangement

Moscow, Feb. 27.—According to the latest information in high military circles, Russian infantry has occupied the road between Liaoyang, on the railroad from Mukden to Port Arthur and the Yalu river, its front and flanks being strongly supported. The right flank is at Takushan and the left near Wiju.

Russian cavalry crossed the Yalu between Antung and Yongampho and occupied the road toward Suckhon, and Cossack scouts advanced along the greater and lesser caravan routes. Scouts are ten miles east of Phenyang. The cavalry is 35 miles north and the infantry 125 miles northwest of Phenyang.

STORY OF DISASTER.

Japanese Admit the Accuracy of Russian Gunners.

Tokio, Feb. 27.—The official report of the naval officers who attempted to block the entrance to the harbor of Port Arthur on the morning of February 24th, differs in some respects from the accounts already printed. From this report it appears that the Russian searchlights discovered the approach of five Japanese steamers before they had reached a point where it was proposed to sink them and the Russian guns disabled three of the five. Another new feature is that a portion of the crews of the sunken steamers were not picked up until the afternoon of the 24th.

The report of the officers in substance is as follows:

"The five vessels intended to obstruct the entrance to the harbor at Port Arthur advanced about 1 o'clock in the morning of the 24th from the southward through the Lao Tze Shan channel towards the mouth of the port.

It appears that the Tenshin Maru, which was in the van, steered too far to port and when about three miles from the south-west shore was shot and seriously damaged.

She was run on the shoals intentionally. The other steamers which were in her wake changed their course to the northeast and advanced, but the enemy's searchlights flashing upon them impeded their progress. The enemy's fire first struck the steering gear of the Bushu Maru, disabling her. She grounded near Tenshin Maru and after striking, her officers destroyed her and she sank.

Next the Buio Maru was seriously damaged by the enemy's shells and she sank before reaching the entrance.

Meanwhile the crews of the Hokoku Maru and the Jinsen Maru lighted explosives to destroy the merchantmen. When they found that their vessels were sinking the crews endeavored to row to the Japanese torpedo boats, which were ready to pick them up, but the Russian searchlights lit up their path and the Russian fire became very severe.

INFLUENCING THE POPULACE.

Russian Newspapers Exciting Sentiment Against This Country.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—The attitude of the United States is the subject of constant discussion even in the highest circles here, where with the greatest regret, fear is expressed that the two countries, without cause so far as Russia is concerned seem to be drifting apart.

The recently reported cancellation of American contracts indicates how the resentment of America's supposed hostility has invaded business affairs. The popular feeling, largely attributed to the Russian newspapers, which suddenly turned their batteries from Great Britain to the United States, seized every rumor and placed the worst possible interpretation upon its acts.

JAPAN ANXIOUS.

To Know How the Powers Will Take Her Arrangement With Korea.

Tokio, Feb. 27.—Japan has assumed a protectorate over Korea in an important protocol signed at Seoul, in which it is specifically stipulated by Japan that she respects Korea's territorial integrity, the sovereignty of the king and the independence of the country. Korea on its part agrees to follow the advice of Japan internally and abroad, to permit Japanese military occupation for the purpose of preserving order and insuring the protection and independence of the country. Korea also agrees to refrain from making agreements with other powers in violation of the terms of the protocol. Following this, assurances are given respecting the integrity of China leaving the hands of Japan clear in the question of any conquest in disputed territory.

This action undoubtedly strengthens the position of Japan abroad and possibly will have the effect of shortening the war because it places Russia in the position of fighting to hold Manchuria. The Japanese troops are already in possession of the country and apparently capable of resisting Russian invasion. In spite, however, of Korea's inability to offer any opposition in the face of this situation Japan voluntarily offers to guarantee her integrity and merely assumes a protectorate.

Great interest is felt here as to how the powers will receive the news that Japan and Korea have signed the protocol. No doubt is held as to the approval of Great Britain and the United States.

Belgian, French and German subjects, as well as representatives of companies conducted officially by Russians, have been pressing for concessions which may be affected by the altered status of Japanese and Korean relations.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The text of the message to the navy department from Commander Marshall, of the Vicksburg is as follows:

"I took the initiative by sending assistance to the Varies as soon as possible after learning that they were abandoning the vessel. Our boats were instructed not to bring the Russian sailors to the Vicksburg, offering the Zafra temporarily but the offer was declined."

NEW CAUSE OF COMPLAINT.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—The Bourse Gazette today takes a Washington dispatch say that the United States has undertaken to lay a submarine cable from the Philippine Islands to prevent the latter's isolation in case the Russians cut the Shanghai cable, the subject of a bitter attack on the government at Washington, "for this new evidence of a breach of neutrality."

THE TROUBLESOME DISPATCH.

New York, Feb. 27.—It was announced by the Associated Press dispatches in Washington, Feb. 24, that the Commercial Cable company had addressed inquiries to the government whether permission could be secured to land at the island of Guam a cable connecting Japan. This cable is to connect Guam with the Pacific Commercial cable to the United States. The government is said to have reached no conclusion.

GOVERNMENT GIVES UP.

London, Feb. 27.—Confirming the statement of the Associated Press that there will be a dissolution of parliament within six weeks, the Daily Chronicle this morning says it hears that the government does not intend to remain in office longer than necessary to get the supply vote, and parliament will be dissolved on Easter Tuesday. The Chronicle adds that the government did not originally intend to appeal to the country at such an early date, but recent divisions are believed to have driven it to a new decision. The impossibility of holding the party together for any length of time it is said, is now recognized.

JEFFRIES NEXT TIME USED UP

Munroe Qualified For a Championship Contest

HE OUTPOINTED SHARKEY

From the Outset the Miner Had the Better of the Sailor and At the Close Had a Long Lead—Few Other Men Could Have Stood the Punishment.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 27.—Jack Munroe outpointed Tom Sharkey in their six round bout at the Second Regiment Armory tonight. Munroe stepped from the ring without a mark, while both of Sharkey's eyes were badly swollen from the vicious right and left swings of the Butte miner. In only the first round did Sharkey have any advantage over Munroe. After this the battle was almost wholly in Munroe's favor.

When Munroe began to find the sailor's stomach, Sharkey became wild and nearly all his leads went around Munroe's neck. In the fifth round Munroe had his antagonist in trouble and again in the sixth Sharkey was in great distress. The blows which Munroe landed on Sharkey's stomach went straight from the shoulder and were hard enough to have knocked out almost any fighter.

The general opinion seems to be that Jeffries will now be called upon to defend the championship against Munroe.

Round 1—Sharkey led and missed. Munroe landed a left blow on Sharkey's ribs. The latter fell through the ropes, but did not land on the floor. Sharkey landed right on stomach and Munroe left to Sharkey's wind. Sharkey missed a left and then clinched. They sparred for opening and rushed together. Munroe slipped and fell to the floor. Sharkey missed a left and a right to Sharkey's nose and a right to the stomach and got away without return. Sharkey missed a left swing, then landed a right to Munroe's jaw, sending him to the floor. When they came up, Munroe clinched to save himself. Sharkey landed another left to the jaw, which bewildered Munroe. The men clinched at the bell. It was Sharkey's round.

Round 2—Sharkey landed a vicious blow over the stomach and the men came together. They sparred a moment, then Sharkey landed a right on Munroe's stomach. Munroe tried a right for the head, but missed. Sharkey landed a light left on Munroe's stomach, then slipped to the floor. Munroe tried a left, but Sharkey stepped inside and landed a light left on the stomach. The men clinched and Sharkey landed a right on Munroe's stomach. They sparred a moment, then Sharkey landed a hard right on Sharkey's stomach and a moment later repeated it.

Round 3—Sharkey lead with a swing to the head and missed. Munroe landed a hard right to the stomach. The men rushed to a clinch and Munroe landed a left on Sharkey's stomach. The men sparred a second, and then Sharkey landed a light on Munroe's stomach. They sparred a moment, then Sharkey landed a right with a hard right on the wind. Sharkey was short with a right. Munroe countered with a right to the wind. Munroe staggered Sharkey with a straight left to the chin. Sharkey rushed in, but Munroe met him with a right to the wind. Sharkey was wild.

Round 4—Munroe landed a right to Sharkey's wind and the latter clinched. They sparred for a moment and then rushed for another clinch. Sharkey missed a right and Munroe landed a right on Sharkey's wind. Sharkey missed a right and Munroe drove a left to the sailor's wind. Sharkey landed a right on Munroe's stomach and the men clinched. Munroe landed a light left on Sharkey's face and a right on the sailor's wind. Sharkey's right went around Munroe's neck without any damage. Munroe pushed a left to Sharkey's nose, getting away without a return. Munroe landed another left on Sharkey's face and the latter slipped to the floor. Munroe

THE DEMOCRATS PUT BRAKES ON THE SENATE WHEELS

They Revolved Slowly

Almost a Filibuster on the Bill Requiring that Government Business Must Be Done With American Ship-owners—Promised Modification.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The senate today approached nearer to a filibuster than on any former occasion during the present session.

A demonstration was made by the democratic senators against the bill requiring the employment of American ships for the shipment of government supplies and amendment after amendment was offered, only to be laid on the table on the motion of Mr. Hale in charge of the bill. Numerous votes were interspersed throughout so that between the two forms of dilatory procedure the entire session was consumed.

On most of the votes the senate divided on party lines, but Mr. Mitchell three or four times voted with the democrats. Mr. Mitchell tried to change the time when the bill should take effect, and in this he had the co-operation of Messrs. Dietrich and Fulton, republicans, and of the democrats.

At the close of the day Mr. Hale consented to make material modification in the bill, whereupon unanimous agreement was reached for a vote next Tuesday.

Mr. Hale moved to lay on the table Mr. Daniel's amendment relieving the government of the necessity of enforcing the provisions in the proposed law in cases in which the charge of American vessels exceeds that of foreign vessels to the extent of 10 per cent.

The motion was carried 42 to 50. Efforts to fix the figures at 15 and then at 20 per cent. were also unsuccessful. The votes were all on party lines.

Mr. Mitchell offered an amendment to postpone the date when the bill should take effect, until July 1, 1905. He expressed the opinion that the bill as a law would have the effect of restricting trade between the United States and its dependencies in the Pacific. He also charged that the effect would be to discriminate in favor of some Pacific coast ports as against others.

None of the American vessels that would be engaged in the trade ever enter the Columbia river. He said all oriental trade from Columbia river ports would be immediately destroyed if the bill should become a law.

Mr. Hale moved to lay Mr. Mitchell's amendment on the table, which was carried, 34 to 23. Messrs. Mitchell, Fulton and Dietrich voting with the democrats.

The senate also tabled amendments giving American vessels a preference where charges do not exceed by more than 25 per cent. those of foreign vessels, and extending the time when the bill should take effect until 1909.

Mr. Patterson suggested an amendment excluding from the benefits of the bill American vessels employing Chinese and other than those entitled to reside in the United States.

The amendment provoked a debate in which Messrs. Patterson, Perkins, Tillman, Elkins and others participated. In a colloquy between Messrs. Perkins and Tillman, Mr. Perkins stated that Mr. Tillman was always willing enough to vote for improvements in the harbor at Charleston. The latter replied that Mr. Perkins was as jealous in his advocacy of measures calculated to benefit the harbor at San Francisco.

Mr. Tillman declared that the naval committee had shown a disposition to abandon the harbor at San Francisco because it is so shallow that it might be necessary to dredge it, but had been compelled to yield to Mr. Perkins' importunities.

Mr. Elkins spoke in support of a discriminatory duty in favor of goods shipped into the United States in American bottoms. Such policy would, he said, work a revolution in five years.

Mr. Patterson expressed a willingness to vote for such a measure as Mr. Elkins outlined, replying to remarks by Mr. Perkins relative to recent legislation in favor of American sailors. Mr. Patterson said that under these laws the seaman has allotted to him less space than a man in his grave.

On motion of Mr. Hale, Mr. Patterson's amendment was laid on the table by a vote of 37 to 15.

THE HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The house today devoted nearly the entire session to the passage of 269 private pension bills. The method employed today in considering pension bills was an innovation.

Mr. Adams (rep. of Penn.) entered a protest because the pension bills introduced by him had not been considered and he intimated that unless his district was treated the same as the other districts he would block the consideration of pension bills in the house.

Mr. Slayden (dem. of Texas) said he had not received the same notice as other members in regard to pension bills. Mr. Speaker Cannon said he "would take the gentleman's protest under consideration."

A number of other local and general bills were passed.

A resolution calling on the secretary of interior for information as to the receipts from sales of town lots in Lawton, Hobart and Anadarko, Oklahoma; for a copy of the report of an inspector or person employed to investigate the charges against any official in charge of Indian affairs in Indian Territory and for other information pertaining to Indians in the Indian Territory was passed.

Other bills were passed as follows: Providing for an additional assistant justice of the supreme court of New Mexico.

Setting apart a tract of land in Arizona as a public park to be known as the Petrified Forest National park. Representative Van Dusen of Nevada introduced a bill for the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

NO BALKAN WAR

Turkey Warned That She Would Gain Nothing

MIGHT LOOSE MACEDONIA

Russia Said to Be Negotiating With the Porte for a Passage of the Dardanelles, the Turk Demanding a Free Hand in Dealing with Bulgaria

Paris, Feb. 27.—An American official who for years past has been studying conditions in the Balkans has just arrived in Paris, and today made an interesting statement of the situation. He said:

"I am satisfied that Turkey will not declare war. She has been informed by the powers that even if she does engage in hostilities she will gain absolutely no result therefrom, and even may suffer from military occupation by the powers and that perhaps it may result in the separation of Macedonia from the Turkish empire. Should war come I am satisfied that Bulgaria would be beaten."

"Operating in the mountains where a few men can pick off a whole regiment, the Bulgarians and insurgents would have a distinct advantage. But the Turkish troops can sweep them around Sofia, where the country is level."

"It has been said that Russia and Turkey are discussing the question of a passage of the Dardanelles by the Russian Black Sea fleet."

"Turkey would not give her consent if asked, unless she gained some concessions in the Balkans, such as dealing with Bulgaria as she saw fit. But Russia could not make such a concession, because she would thereby forfeit the preferential position which she and Austria hold in consequence, having been designated by the powers to act as their representatives in dealing with the Balkan question."

BADGER CAPITOL BURNED

The Seat of Government May Be Moved to Milwaukee

Madison, Wis., Feb. 27.—The Wisconsin state capitol building was damaged to the extent of about $300,000 today. The fire involved the building of a new capitol and a special session of the legislature and probably a renewal of the agitation in favor of a removal of the capitol from Madison to Milwaukee.

The fire was caused by defective electric wiring. The insurance was $6,000. Fire apparatus was sent from Milwaukee. Fire Chief Bernard was overcome by smoke and fell from a ladder, receiving serious injuries. He is now unconscious.

One of the most serious losses by the fire was the destruction of the Grand Army room, together with all the records of the department of Wisconsin and Lucius Fairchild Post of this city. "Old Abe," the famous war eagle, and all records, mementoes and relics of the Spanish-American war were also destroyed. Nothing was saved from the room, except the battle flags. The loss is estimated tonight at $1,000,000.
